10 SECRETARY PIERSON:

11 Thank you all.

12 I know many of you traveled from various 13 parts of the state to join us on this occasion this 14 morning for our Louisiana Military Advisory Council 15 meeting. We have an opportunity for the Governor to 16 address us this morning. I know his schedule is tight.
17 He can't stay for the entire meeting, but we certainly 18 welcome his presence, and at this time, I'd like to call 19 on Governor John Bel Edwards for his remarks.

20 GOVERNOR EDWARDS:

21 Thank you. Thank you very much, Don,
22 and thank you all of you for serving in this capacity.
23 I wanted to personally attend to let you know that I 24 appreciate your service. Most of you have served our 25 nation. I want to tell you I appreciate that, too,

1 especially coming the week after Veterans day. And one
2 of the things that I want us to focus on is to make sure 3 that we are showing a generous appreciation for veterans 4 across the state and for their family members, because 5 having had a wife while I was on active duty, I know 6 that family members sacrifice as well.

7 I think what you-all do is extremely 8 important because it is a matter of economic 9 development, which is why Don is here, but it's a whole 10 lot more than that. I mean, we have one of the most 11 patriotic citizenry in the country. When you look at 12 the number of people on a per capita basis who choose to 13 serve our country, it is inspiring, and we want to make 14 sure that we serve them well in return.

15 We do want to make sure that Louisiana
16 remains a place where when our military folks retire, 17 they want to come here. They want to stay here. That 18 doesn't happen if we lose our active-duty installations 19 or when they get -- if we reduce the number of soldiers 20 and airmen and so forth, then that doesn't happen the 21 way we want it to. So it's incredibly important that we 22 show the folks in the Pentagon in Washington, DC that 23 we're comitted to these installations. And despite our 24 very difficult budget constraints, we have to show that 25 we are committed to making sure that they are successful

1 here and that they will, in turn, understand that this 2 is a place where they want to be.

3 The fact of the matter is, I don't know 4 if there's another place in the country where they can 5 train soldiers and airmen and so forth as cheaply as 6 they do in Louisiana. I don't know that there's another 7 place in the country where they are supported more than 8 they are here. Just look at the fact that out of Fort 9 Polk, the folks around that area actually agreed to have 10 thousands of acres added to that military reservation.
11 That's not happening anywhere else in the country.

12 So I'm excited about what you-all are 13 doing. I appreciate the fact that y'all are willing to 14 serve. I am going to ask that you schedule your 15 meetings at different, you know, so that we meet at Fort 16 Polk or we meet at Barksdale.

17 And by the way, I was at Barksdale
18 earlier this week, wasn't it, Don?

19 SECRETARY PIERSON:

20 Tuesday, sir.

21 GOVERNOR EDWARDS:

22 Tuesday and met with General Rand, and 23 if you-all are not personally familiar with what's 24 happening at Barksdale and the investment that the Air 25 Force, the country, really, is making at Barksdale in

1 Bossier, I think you're going to be really excited to 2 the know the role that that installation is going to 3 play in your national security, but with them making so 4 many investments they're committed to, we have to do
5 better as well. So one of the things that I've done, 6 and I got with Secretary Wilson at the Department of 7 Transportation and we are going to complete that 8 interchange off of the interstate because we have a 9 4-Star nuclear command and not a good way to get on and 10 off that post. And I shouldn't just call it a post 11 because it's a base. My Army days are showing up. But 12 that's just one of the things that we are going to do.
13 We're going to help them as best we can to make sure 14 that they're successful building a school on base to 15 serve the folks there. And then -- these are the things 16 we're going to do across the board, but I was just at 17 Barksdale and I've had similar conversations with the 18 folks at Leesville around Fort Polk, and I know that the 19 school board there is having some issues, especially 20 because the amount of money that the federal government 21 pays for the school system to offset the fact that the 22 kids, many of the kids who go there, are military 23 dependents whose family are not paying into the property
24 tax. So they get some money, but they get fixed costs 25 to serve this debt to pay teachers and everything, and

1 when they take soldiers away, they pay less towards that 2 school system. So they're starting to struggle a little 3 bit. We have to work with them, but also show our 4 commitment to Fort Polk, and so you're going to see out 5 of me, even though we have constraints out of the 6 Capital Outlay budget constraints around our operating 7 budget, you're going to see a focus as best we can to 8 make sure we're doing what we can to support those 9 communities and there's never any reason for the folks 10 in the Pentagon to doubt our commitment to these 11 installations, to our soldiers, to our airmen, to our 12 sailors and so forth.

13 One of the ways that I want to show that 14 we want them here and that we welcome and we're going to 15 work with them is military dependents have a hard time 16 in Louisiana when they move here being able to do 17 whatever it is that they do for living, whether they're 18 beauticians or barbers or whether they are real estate 19 agents, whether they are nurses. There are a lot of 20 impediments that they have when they move here to 21 actually do what it is that they do professionally.
22 There are other states who do a better job of reducing 23 those obstacles, and one of the things I'm asking you to 24 do is take a look and find a couple of states out there 25 that do it better than we do and let's figure out how we

1 can -- and it's probably going to involve legislation, 2 but lower those obstacles so that we can show that we 3 appreciate those dependents as well because that's 4 really what helps those families to be successful when 5 they transition to Louisiana and it's something that 6 I've heard over and over the last several years, really.
7 And it's always a turf war because we have a certain way 8 of doing things in Louisiana and we were very reluctant 9 to waive some of those requirements, but I believe when 10 it comes to military dependents, we ought to do that and 11 there ought not be another state in the nation that is 12 more welcoming, more accommodating than we are. So it 13 just kind of goes hand in hand with the patriotism that 14 we have in Louisiana and what we do for those who are 15 actually on active duty, that we also, I think, treat 16 the dependents a little bit better.

17 I want to thank Secretary Joey
18 Strickland for serving, and, you know, Joey and Don will 19 obviously be my direct eyes and ears on the commission, 20 but I do intend to be personally involved and to attend 21 meetings certainly when I can because I do think this is 22 incredibly important. And I have an opportunity to help 23 with what you-all are going to be doing because I've 24 been named on the Council of Governors. There's a few 25 governors around the country who sit on the Council of

1     Governors who periodically will go to Washington and 2     meet with the folks in the Pentagon, meet with the 3     President and advise the President on military matters, 4     and so as you-all see things that you believe warrant 5     the President's attention or warrant a discussion in 6     Washington, please don't hesitate to bring that to my 7     attention because I will do that. I look forward to 8     being able to use my position on the Council of 9     Governors, for example, to make sure that the agenda of 10    Fort Polk Progress advances because, you know, that's 11    incredibly important. And every time we think we were 12    past the threat of having the number of soldiers there 13    reduced, it seems like they come right back at us again, 14    and that will be a horrible thing for Central Louisiana 15    to have those soldiers taken out of there, especially 16    that combat brigade, for example. I don't think JRTC is 17    going to go anywhere, but if we lost that brigade, that 18    will be significant.

19                    So I want to give y'all an opportunity 20    to ask me questions or maybe tell me some things that

1 the active duty component. And I know I just talked 2 about Barksdale and Polk, but Belle Chasse, I mean, it's 3 all of it, and I will say this and then I'll take 4 questions, there is no doubt in my mind we have the best
5 National Guard in the country. And I have seen it
6 firsthand for a number of years, but now as Governor, I
7 have gone through the historic, unprecedented floods
8 that we had here this year where 46 out of our 60 -- I'm 9 sorry -- 56 out of our 64 parishes were declared major 10 federal disasters this year, and we saw our National 11 Guard step up time and time again, often while many of 12 their homes were actually flooded. And, you know, the 13 sad part is, I think we are as good as we are because we 14 get so much practice. I would rather have less 15 practice, but it is comforting to know that when we need 16 them, that they are going to be there and they're going 17 to do an extremely good job.

18 We are doing some great things with the 19 Department of Veterans Affairs. I mean, Joey's 20 leadership, I don't know if you know this or not, but 21 since the floods, we have distributed $350,000 to the 22 families of people who are serving National Guard, I 23 believe --

2 -- because they needed help. And that

6 SECRETARY STRICKLAND:

7 No, that's correct, Governor.

8 GOVERNOR EDWARDS:

9 It was made available for more need, and 10 we didn't know the flood was coming, but because it did, 11 that has been, you know, very, very helpful to those 12 families. But we are doing a lot of work to take care 13 of our veterans and make sure that -- and, in fact,
14 despite the $2-billion state general fund deficit that I 15 inherited for the current fiscal year, we did not cut

12 come and attend those meetings with you, especially if 13 you're going to do them at a place like Barksdale or 14 Fort Polk. I want to get there, and I still love to see 15 soldiers train, for example, and if we can go to Fort 16 Polk and do that, go watch a naval operation, that would 17 be great for me.

18 So with that, if you have any questions
19 or concerns or, Don, if you have something else you 20 wanted me to address.

21 SECRETARY PIERSON:

22 Governor, thank you for those remarks, 23 and you're uniquely qualified to say that we've got the 24 best Guard in the nation. Because of your background 25 experience, it's a qualified opinion. That's great to

2 Thank you for including the Louisiana
3 Military Advisory Council in the executive budget and 4 the funds that we're able to be a conduit for back to 5 the military installations. They're extremely 6 important. We've had great support from the 7 legislature, but we need those small amount of dollars.
8 It's maybe $550,000 annually that we utilize to do 9 important things at our military installations that's 10 critical to our success moving forward.

11 Also, I'd like to ask Chris Goode to 12 stand, please. I know that the Governor, when you make 13 many trips to Washington, DC, if you do have time, we 14 have the Roosevelt Group under contract, and they're our 15 eyes and ears and -- I can't say boots on the ground. I 16 say shoes on the ground because it's important work in 17 Congress and over at the Pentagon for a lot of important 18 decisions that impact our installations or may, so Chris 19 and his group guide us there and want you to know that 20 they're fully at your service as well.

21 Chris, do you want to add anything?

22 MR. GOODE:

23 Well, I'll add two things.

24 In terms of Council of Governors, that's 25 really good news. If you remember, back in Fiscal Year

1 '13, that's when the Air Force really collapsed and the 2 National Guard took the majority of those cuts, and it
3 was Council of Governors that really worked with the Air 4 Force to roll some of those cuts back. Every state was 5 impacted by that. In Louisiana, we lost A10s at 6 Barksdale, but in that negotiation, the ATC, Air Traffic
7 Controllers, were saved at England, and then delegation 8 went along with that. But at the end of the day, the 9 Council of Governors had a really prominent role in 10 working with the Air Force to roll some of those things 11 back.

12 You mentioned Fort Polk. We have for 13 years battled saving that one brigade. Today, that is 14 the only single brigade location in the country. I know 15 you know that, but I appreciate your military 16 background, which is going to be also very helpful on 17 the Council of Governors. But we are, I think for the 18 first time, in a position to actually regroup commission 19 at Fort Polk.

20 The Army is going to select two training 21 advice brigades next year. Mike and I are going to be 22 at the Pentagon in two weeks to talk to the guy that is 23 going to do the selection. But, you know, we are in a 24 very good place, I think, going in next year, if the 25 budget follows us, to potentially regroup the commission

4 GOVERNOR EDWARDS:

5 Thank you.

6 And I think we have a great chance to 7 stop budgeting through the sequestration in the very 8 near future, and I'm not going to get political about 9 this, but it appears that the budget deficits don't 10 matter again, because we're -- and, look, some of that's 11 going to be very good. I think the President Elect 12 plans to build a lot of transportation infrastructure 13 around the country. I think we need to do that, but 14 we're also going to go on a different trajectory that 15 relates to the tax policy, and, in the meantime, I 16 suspect deficits are going to amount, but we're likely 17 than not to budget through sequestration and so we 18 should have some of that pressure relieved and we can do 19 some good things there.

20 SECRETARY STRICKLAND:

21 Governor, the subject is state veteran
22 cemeteries. You know, earlier this year, you passed -- 23 signed a bill to allow us to waive the fee for family 24 burials, and that's a good thing. We've already put 25 that into effect. As a matter of fact, we got a lot of

1    applause -- you get a lot of kudos around the state for 2    signing that bill, but I think we have a bigger
3    situation.  We need to wean the state veterans 4    cemeteries off the state general fund, just like we did 5    the homes, and make them self sufficient, but in order 6    to do that, we have to get the federal VA to raise the 7    burial plot fee for every veteran to about $1,100 as 8    opposed to the 745.  And I've been talking with other 9    state directors around the country and they're in 10   agreement with this and I'll give you a paper on it.
11   But the next time you meet with the Council of 12   Governors, if you could help us push this with other 13   governors.  If we could -- the states are responsible 14   for perpetual care, but it's costing us a lot of state 15   dollars.  We should be able to wean those cemeteries and 16   make them self sufficient.

17                   GOVERNOR EDWARDS:

18                   Well, give me the paper on that.  Just 19   for the reason we thought it was necessary to be able to 20   waive the fees, I'm a little bit reluctant to increase 21   the fees on people, too, but I'd like to see the 22   proposal.  And we -- I know that the federal government 23   comes in and pays to build the cemeteries and we then 24   have an agreement that we're going to operate them and 25   maintain them and so forth, and so I wouldn't want to

1 of disaster response because that's what we've seen most 2 recently, but it's a very, very good military unit as 3 well in terms of their training and their preparedness, 4 what they do when they deploy, the relationships they 5 have.

6 I think I was at Jackson Barracks a

1 the future holds from an offensive standpoint for once.

2 But really just wanted to relay to you
3 that as you work around state, places like Central 4 Louisiana, fairly rural places like Fort Polk is very 5 rural, but it requires some resources from around the

14 MR. REESE:

15 I mean, just let us know as you visit
16 with different entities around the state, when you see 17 opportunities for us to better educate people, where 18 those education resources are and have recommendations 19 for us how we can better market that information so that 20 people understand what's at stake and how we can better

22 because we're very anxious to be able to do that. And 23 you have a better ear to the ground on that than we do

25 But, secondly, I want to share with you

1 on public-public partnerships that this was being pushed 2 by Bingham and special rules and laws that allow the 3 installations to contract with the local parish or state 4 agencies to provide the same services that they 5 currently do on the installation, which is usually 6 beneficial. And so Sherri and Don had set up some 7 meetings with several of your state agencies for us a 8 couple of weeks ago, several weeks ago, maybe a month 9 now, so we're bearing the fruit of that.

10 So DOTD has already been on the table.
11 And just this week we had a meeting where Fort Polk, you 12 know, where it costs them, let's just say, $1-million a 13 mile to overlay asphalt and the state's getting it done 14 for $600,000 a mile, and so Fort Polk is going to be 15 able to contract with the state. And we're headed down 16 that road now to see if we can make this an agreement so 17 that Fort Polk can spend to same numbers of dollars, 18 spend it with the state and get a third more of the work
19 done on the installation. Huge win for everybody 20 involved, builds the military value of our base, helps 21 the state. There will be some dollars come to DOTD in 22 the process.

23 Secondly we have a waste management
24 situation on Fort Polk that was way too costly and it 25 wasn't run very efficiently, and now they're able to go

1 to the local police jury. The police jury is able to go
2 to their contractor that already serves the parish, 3 expand their contract. That's going to result in huge 4 cost savings to both the installations in what they had 5 been paying and it's going to result in a lower cost for 6 the parish, for the taxpayers and the parish as well.

7 So just some great achievements, and 8 there's going to be more and more opportunities for the 9 installations to work state agencies. So as you talk 10 with those, your state agency leads, please encourage 11 them to participate in that process because I think it's 12 going to be some wins for our state agencies, our 13 installations to increase that military value.

14 GOVERNOR EDWARDS:

15 And that's possible whether it's 16 Barksdale, Belle Chasse or whatever?

17 MR. REESE:

18 Correct. Absolutely. So we're really 19 working with best practices. Anything accomplished at 20 Fort Polk, we'll share with our partners at Barksdale 21 and the New Orleans Area to make sure that we're all in 22 that same synergy.

6 SECRETARY PIERSON:

7 It is.

8 GOVERNOR EDWARDS:

9 It is?

10 So it may be time to update it, but when 11 we update it, let's don't just look at it and put it on 12 the shelf. Let's just make sure that everybody knows 13 how important this is to us from an economic perspective 14 so that we can build the support that we need to do the 15 things that we're all wanting to do, because the sad

2 And when we go up and meet at Barksdale, 3 because General Rand would like to host a meeting, that 4 might be one where we invite Secretary Wilson to come 5 and give an update on where we are, how long it's going 6 to take. I mean, you can't get those things done 7 overnight, but we have found the funding source, and 8 basically we got $100-million dollars this year from the 9 FAST Act to put on I-10, but it's freeing up that same 10 amount of money that we were going to put on I-10, now 11 we can go do some things elsewhere.

12 And I told him that -- we were initially 13 awarded 60-million. We knew we needed 100 in order to

22 SECRETARY STRICKLAND:

23 Good morning everybody. Good to be

1 that everybody, you look relatively healthy and I hope 2 you are, but it's an honor to be here to work with 3 Secretary Pierson and his folks in Economic Development.

4 I remember years ago when General
5 Landreneau and I were working in the Foster
6 Administration, we totally revamped this board. It used
7 to be called the Governor's Military Advisory Board. I 8 think there's another name for it now, but there used to 9 be like 100 people that would come and show up and not 10 much would get accomplished. And then working with 11 Vinny and Terry Ryder and other folks, we got it down to 12 a working group of what we have in here, and that's made 13 it much more effective to support our objectives around 14 the state.

15 But what I want to do is take a few
16 moments to talk to you about Veterans Affairs. I 17 retired from active duty in 1995, and, really, like most 18 military officers, didn't know anybody in the politics, 19 but I was able to get a job with the first Governor 20 Edwards and got involved and brought the Troops to 21 Teachers program to the state. And then Governor 22 Foster, when he became governor, appointed me Secretary 23 or Director of Veterans Affairs back then, and we 24 started -- I worked very closely with General
25 Landreneau. We did a complete study of the Department

1 of Veterans Affairs and we realized that we had a lot of 2 work to do. There one was only one veterans home in the 3 state to serve over 330,000 veterans and their families, 4 and based on that number, we were authorized to a total
5 of five. And so we started a massive program to build 6 veterans homes around the state, and we got it done in 7 Bossier, Reserve, Jennings, Monroe. And now we have 8 five veterans homes. They're all at 90 to 95 percent 9 capacity. They are -- we were able to get them off the 10 state general fund list because we knew that our state 11 was struggling with the budget, and now they're all self 12 sufficient.

13 As a matter of fact, we're not only able 14 to meet our commitment to our veterans, but we usually 15 have a huge surplus at the end of the year, which we are 16 able to help our state with their budget. I gave back 17 $5-million to the state to help the Governor plug the 18 budget hole and was really proud to do that. And it 19 didn't hurt us a bit. We still have plenty of money.

20 We receive money from the federal 21 government through several streams, and some of them
22 you're familiar with, Medicare, Medicaid, 70 percent 23 service veterans or 70 percent service connected, per 24 diem payments, and then there is some private pay 25 involved. So there's like five money streams coming in

1 to run those homes, and we're not having any problems at 2 all.

3 We undergo yearly healthcare surveys by 4 the federal VA, and also CMS surveys, again, by the 5 federal VA. These are quality of care inspections that 6 are very, very intense, kind of like even more intense 7 then the old IG inspections that we all went through in 8 the military. I mean, they come in and they look at 9 everything, and so it's very intense. I've got two 10 homes undergoing those inspections even as we speak this 11 morning, Monroe and Reserve.

12 So we're very proud of our homes, and we 13 provide -- we don't even call them nursing homes. We 14 call them community-assisted living centers, and my 15 motto, which I've expressed to my people -- and, by the 16 way, we have over 900 employees in the Department of 17 Veterans Affairs, and our budget is a $60-million 18 budget, so we are not a small agency. We're not the 19 largest agency, but we're not a small agency, and we 20 contribute a lot to the economy of the state.

21 But one of the things that I tell my 22 people to express to our families out there is that our 23 veterans homes are places where veterans go to live, not 24 to die. I mean, we provide the best quality of care 25 probably of any private nursing home in the State of 2 I don't have a problem filling my homes.

3 I have waiting lists of people trying to get in, and 4 that's a good thing for us because that shows that we 5 have something tangible that can support our families in 6 their elderly years, but there's one other thing I 7 wanted to mention about the homes. The homes are not 8 just for elderly veterans and spouses. Spouses can live 9 in a veterans home as well, but they're also for 10 combat-wounded veterans, and we have a number of 11 veterans from Dessert Storm, from Iraq and Afghanistan 12 who reside in our veterans homes. And we have doctors 13 that come in every day. We have pharmacists. We have 14 rehabilitation for veterans that have had strokes. And 15 I've got to tell you, I was at Jackson all day 16 yesterday, we awarded over 137 honor medals, which I'm 17 going to talk about in a little bit, but I ran into 18 several veterans from Dylan's area, from Iraq and 19 Afghanistan, who had strokes because of their combat 20 services and they're wheelchair bound and we take really 21 good care of those veterans, so we are very fortunate in 22 our state to have those.

23 And we're tied in directly with the 24 National Home Health Administration, and the guy -- I'm 25 very fortunate in that my chief of staff, you know,

1 every successful commander would not be successful if it
2 wasn't for a good chief of staff, and I have the best.
3 He's right back there, Homer Rogers. Forty years in 4 veterans healthcare and he knows -- he tells the federal 5 VA what to do and then that's the way it should be.

6 And, also, I want to introduce my 7 Communications Director, former Air Force Captain, and 8 she keeps the word out there and keeps the bad guys off 9 us whenever they blasting us sometimes. That does 10 happen no matter how hard you try. So that's our homes.

11 The other big program that we have is 12 our parish benefits programs. We have highly trained 13 benefits counselors in every parish of the state, and 14 these people, for the most part, men and woman, are 15 veterans. They work very hard to process claims in 16 pension disability compensation benefits for our 17 veterans. They go through an intensive training to be 18 qualified to do that, and then they come back twice a 19 year for refresher training. Their job is to make sure 20 that the claims coming out of the parishes are so well 21 put together that when they get into the federal 22 pipeline, there's no reason for the feds to turn them
23 back because we want them to be adjudicated as quickly 24 as possible so those veterans can get their disability 25 compensation. We have also a group of paralegals in New

1 Orleans that verifies those claims and takes one last 2 look before they go to the federal side.

3 The biggest complaint that we get when 4 it comes to claims is in the appeals process. I tell
5 veterans don't appeal your claim, and the reason why I
6 tell them that is because there's a three to four-year 7 backlog from the Board of Appeals in Washington. And 8 the state directors have been blasting the federal VA
9 about that for many years, but it has not improved. So 10 what I tell veterans to do, if your claim comes back and 11 it's not what you think it should be, don't appeal it.
12 Just reopen the claim because if you reopen the claim, 13 it only takes six months for the claim to be heard again
14 as opposed to you sitting around three or four years 15 waiting on your claim. And so I think the message is 16 finally, finally getting out. I'm like John the 17 Baptist; I'm like out there preaching in the wilderness 18 every day to insure that our veterans understand that.

19 And so we're very proud of our benefits 20 program. It was the very first program brought to 21 Louisiana right after World War I. Last year, we 22 brought in $1.2-billion in federal compensation into the 23 State of Louisiana. That's money that goes around two 24 or three times before it goes back out, and so that's a 25 tremendous program. And, you know, the sad thing is,

1 our counselors start out at only $24,000, almost $25,000
2 a year, but we're working -- we have a plan on February 3 the 1st to bring their pay, without civil service
4 involvement, up to a competitive level, and I'm looking 5 forward to that. So that's the benefits division.

6 The other big program that we have, and 7 I know we're limited on time, but the other big program 8 that we have is our state veterans cemeteries. A few 9 years ago, the federal government got away from building 10 these huge national cemeteries. Actually, in 1991, the 11 State of Louisiana ran out of burial space for our 12 veterans. It was a major embarrassment for our state.
13 We were able to -- by the time I came on board, we were 14 able to acquire four acres at Port Hudson to fit that 15 gap, and then we were able to, working with the feds, 16 get another 125 acres in Zachary to add to the national 17 cemetery. But they're just not going to build anymore
18 of these huge cemeteries. So the answer is state 19 veteran cemeteries. What happens is that the federal 20 government -- the state puts up the land, the federal 21 government comes in and builds it, builds the 22 administration buildings, sets the headstones. They do 23 everything. And then they give the state the keys and 24 say, "Okay, State, run it." We're responsible for 25 perpetual care.

1           The federal government provides -- and 2 this is what I was talking to the Governor about. The 3 federal government provides $745 per burial for every 4 veteran. The veteran is buried free of charge and gets 5 a marker and all of the honors, and the state gets $745.
6 We're also authorized to charge $745 per loved one, per 7 spouse or child, because they can be buried with their 8 veterans. We're a poor state, and I kept running into 9 families that couldn't afford that $745, so I asked the 10 legislature to allow me to negotiate a lower fee or to 11 even waive it, depending on the financial situation of 12 the family. The legislature approved it; the Governor 13 signed it and it's law.

14           But what I want is for the federal VA to 15 give us 1,100 to $1,200 burial plot fee per veteran 16 because then that would allow us to make the state 17 cemetery self sufficient and we wouldn't have to go to 18 legislature for $1-million every year. And that's 19 doable, and so I'm going to work with the Governor and 20 Don on getting that done.

21           The other program that we have, which is 22 very, very good, is the Military Family Assistance Fund 23 that the Governor had mentioned. That fund was 24 originally set up when Vinny was retained to help deploy
25 units of the Guard to help those young men and woman

1 come home one last time after their training before they 2 deploy into combat theaters. It's still like that.
3 That fund was set up primarily to support Guard and 4 Reserves. But we were sitting with $1-million in that 5 fund and I was afraid that the legislature would take 6 that money, and so I asked the legislature if they would 7 extend that fund to allow me to support all veterans and 8 keep money in there for our Guard and Reserve. They 9 agreed to do that not knowing that we were going to be 10 flooded, and so we're actually approaching a little over 11 $350,000. I think that's -- that's where we're at, 12 Alex? And we supported about 1,000 veterans that went 13 under, and that's money that they don't have to pay 14 back. That's a good thing. And we took that idea from 15 the State of Arizona, which has a similar fund, and 16 we're going to replenish that fund through state tax 17 write offs and also the sale of specialty tags, and so 18 it's an excellent, excellent program.

19 For veterans that were not affected by 20 the flood that just have original expense issues, then 21 we have a board that oversees the fund that can approve 22 any amount from 13,000 to $500, and so it's a good 23 program and we're only one of two states in the nation 24 with a program like that for our veterans.

25 And so what the Governor was saying that

1 he wants Louisiana to be a veteran-friendly state, I 2 believe that we are. I think we are probably the most 3 veteran-friendly state in the nation, and we are going 4 to continue along that trend.

5 Other programs that we have, the Honor
6 Medal. I mentioned it a few minutes ago with 330,000
7 veterans. We're authorized to award a medal, a 8 beautiful honor medal, to every veteran. We've only 9 given out, since Governor Foster was in office when the 10 program first came around, was 40 -- we've given a total 11 of 40,000. Well, I'm going to work really, really hard 12 to increase that. When I leave here at three years or 13 however many years I'm here, I want over 150,000 14 veterans to have received medals, so I'm going to be 15 pushing that program really hard. It's simple. All 16 you've got to do is send in a copy of your DD214. We'll

1 things I'm concerned with. I'm concerned about the 2 Choice card situation for veterans. They don't totally 3 understand it, so I'm working with the three VA medical 4 center directors to ensure that when your veterans use 5 the Choice card, even when they make a mistake, to 6 forgive their veterans because most veterans don't 7 understand that you have to get prior permission to use
8 the card before you use it. So when you're sick and you
9 really need a doctor and you can't get into the VA

1 Force.

2 And on the note of Global Strike
3 Command, it's continuing to grow, and that is a great 4 thing. They taken on Nuclear Command and Control
5 Mission, and it's expected to bring another two or 300
6 jobs into in the command. We understand this morning 7 that House looks like they are very close to passing the 8 National Defense Authorization Act, which would be a 9 very good thing. That will be a good thing and going to 10 provide around, I think it's, $90-billion of overseas 11 contingency fund to provide for more jobs and more 12 money.

13 We continue to advocate for 14 recapitalization to the weapons storage facility at 15 Barksdale Air Force Base. That facility was deactivated
16 probably seven or eight years ago. As it stands now, 17 looks to be programmed in 2019 with the MILCON project.
18 It will be a three-year program that will last till 19 2022, $350-million total for that program, and that's 20 something that is definitely needed for Barksdale 21 because right now, to load up nuclear-capable weapons, 22 our B52s have to fly to Minot, North Dakota and use 23 their weapons storage facility out there.

24 We also are excited about a new delivery
25 system for Barksdale and other bases in the Air Force,

1 particularly the B21 Raider. The contract was left for 2 that this past summer. And the long-range standoff
3 missile. That missile is a follow-on to the current 4 cruise missile that we have. A lot of discussion has 5 been going around about, "Why do you need a new cruise 6 missile if you've got a new stealth bomber?" Well, the 7 fact of the matter is, the stealth characteristics will 8 not continue four years on out into the 2060-2070
9 timeframe that they're talking about for the B21, so 10 it's important to have a conventional, long-range cruise 11 missile, not just for the B52s, which are anything but 12 stealthy, but also B52s and the B21s. We continue to 13 work with the new fixed-wing mission to support Green 14 Flag East at Fort Polk, the MQ9 mission that Chris and 15 the rest of us were working on, hopefully trying to 16 track the Barksdale with someplace else. So we have not 17 forgotten about our commitment to Fort Polk to have 18 jointness within the State of Louisiana.

19 We also want to establish Northwest
20 Louisiana as the focal point for development of 21 technical and other foundational capabilities that will 22 support Air Force Global Strike Command. That's 23 building directly on what's going on with the Cyber 24 Innovation Center and the new facility that just opened 25 Tuesday morning for CSRA. We continue to work with

1 higher education around Northwest Louisiana to supply
2 the jobs and the folks necessary to make that facility 3 or those facilities a success, again, to support the 4 Nuclear Command and Control Mission that Global Strike
5 Command has taken on. Secure Air Force to take it back
6 to a 3-Star command. Each Air Force commander reports
7 to the commander of US Strategic Command. He's a Joint 8 Forces Air Component Commander. In other words, he 9 supplies the combat capability for US Strategic Command 10 and other combat commanders in theater. It is a big 11 job. It's a huge job, and to be an effective advocate, 12 that command needs to go back to a 3-Star command as it 13 was.

14 We'd like to see some expanded bandwidth
15 coming into Barksdale for the Point of Presence Center 16 close to the CIC at Barksdale. All of the 17 communications for Air Force Global Strike Command, 18 General Rand, from US Strategic Command for the Second 19 Bombing, the 8th Air Force, which controls the 20 nuclear -- all of the bombs down there, of course, comes 21 through Barksdale Air Force Base command post. We 22 desperately need to have better bandwidth coming in 23 there. We desperately need to have another com line
24 coming in. So right now, there's only one piece of lith 25 fiber that's coming into to Barksdale, and we need that

1 redundancy so there's a backup for it.

2 Along with Chris Goode and the Roosevelt
3 Group -- I'm sorry. I tell my wife all of the time I'm 4 a technological dinosaur and I need a lot of help. I
5 guess I'm glad I'm not extinct.

6 We continue to develop an advocacy
7 strategy to ensure that the Louisiana Congressional 8 Delegation understands the need of Barksdale Air Force 9 Base and they communicate their interest to corporate 10 Air Force and help them understand that their decisions 11 made across the Air Force, not just for Barksdale, is 12 important. Again, a big part of it, piece to that 13 puzzle is the 4-Star general at Air Force Global Strike 14 Command. We've got basically a new congressional 15 delegation that's coming in, especially after this 16 election. It's important that they understand what goes 17 on at Barksdale, they understand the importance of 18 Barksdale Air Force Base, not just for the country, but 19 to Northwest Louisiana and the state as a whole.

20 We, again, talk a lot about the weapons
21 storage facility out at Barksdale. As I said, our B52s 22 are dependent on Minot Air Force Base for support. And, 23 again, it's not an inexpensive project. It is a huge, 24 huge project.

25 Just recently the Air Force has raised a

1 flag that they may look at doing inhouse BRACs, and,
2 folks, I'll tell you, that scares me to death. I would 3 rather know who's creeping me than wake up one morning
4 and find out we've got a real problem on our hands. So 5 we want to make sure that the congressional delegation 6 understands that, that there is some congressional 7 oversight to that process because there are laws in 8 place about how many folks you can move out of the 9 military installation.

10 I understand what the Air Force is faced 11 with. They have 30 percent excess capacity within their 12 bases, but that doesn't mean that they're 30 percent 13 base -- 30 percent of bases could be closed, but it 14 means there's unused land and unused facilities on 15 various bases, and they're looking for some relief on 16 how to get out from under some of that overhead.

17 So Barksdale is the largest single 18 employer in Shreveport, Bossier, Northwest Louisiana 19 area. It has a total economic impact of almost 20 $754-million, 17,000 active-duty civilians, reserve and 21 dependents live in Northwest Louisiana that this 22 Barksdale Air Force Base is in. Approximately 40,000
23 folks, retirees and their families, like Mayor Walker, 24 live in Louisiana because Barksdale is there. If 25 Barksdale were not there, they would go find another

1 military base where they could receive the support that 2 military bases provides for their retirement.

3 I talked about another BRAC. You know,
4 there are -- there's a lot of room for mistakes and 5 miscalculations in a BRAC. A lot of bad information
6 gets thrown around, and it takes a long, long, long time 7 to implement a BRAC. We're still working on stuff from 8 2005 trying to integrate that back in. So it's 9 important that we work, we, Barksdale Forward, work to 10 sustain Barksdale Air Force Base in its mission. It's 11 important to me that we work with Fort Polk in the 12 partnership that we have with Fort Polk to make sure 13 that, again, military understands that there is a state 14 of jointness within the State of Louisiana.

15 I mentioned recapitalization Green Flag
16 Mission, growing a fixed-wing, painting a fixed-wing
17 mission to support the Joint Readiness Training Command 18 at Fort Polk. That's important. It's important for the 19 sake of Fort Polk; it's important for the sake of 20 Barksdale and it's important for the good of the public.

21 Public-private partnerships, our Wing
22 Commander, new Wing Commander, Colonel Neuman, came from 23 Ellsworth Air Force Base, South Dakota. He's very 24 familiar with public-private partnerships, very 25 interested in pursuing that. So there is a lot of

1 opportunities between the community and Barksdale and 2 the military. We are very fortunate to have, as I
3 mentioned earlier, the support of the Governor for, I
4 call it, the 220 terminus into Barksdale, to join up 5 with the military construction dollars to build a new 6 gate and a new entrance into Barksdale.

7 As I mentioned, Barksdale is surrounded 8 on two sides by railroad tracks, and it can cause a lot 9 of problems trying to get the kids off base for school, 10 back on base for school, trying to get folks coming in 11 and out of the base just to come to work.

12 So those are important things that we're 13 working on. Schools, we're working with Barksdale.
14 They have granted approval from the Bossier Parish 15 School Board to have a charter school on base, so we're 16 working with them, and I believe in the next two or 17 three weeks, the corporate partner with them will be in 18 to Barksdale to look at three sites for that potential 19 school.

20 So regular outreach for Capitol Hill
21 depending and to the Pentagon, very important. Chris 22 and his team are very helpful to us in that outreach. I
23 am fortunate to be a member of Air Force Civic Leader 24 Group. That's about, oh, if you count all of the 7 upgrades.

8 L-T, which is a family of Beyond Line of 9 Sight Communications, is basically a satellite uplink
10 for the B52. For most of you that don't know, the B52 11 is the last plane that came online in 1962, so it's 12 entering not into its golden years, believe it or not, 13 because it's scheduled to continue as a viable platform
14 into the 2040 timeframe and beyond. So it's important 15 that we have these upgrades.

16 CONECT, which is the digital backbone
17 for the aircraft, will allow, through a database inside 18 the bomb bay, will allow the carrier to be used for 19 smart weapons, not just on the pylons of the B52, but 20 internal to the aircraft, which improves range, carrying 21 capability, obviously, and loiter time.

22 Strategic radar replacement, in a 23 nuclear mission, it's extremely important know where 24 you're going to put your bomb, so a capable radar is 25 very, very important. The radar that's on the aircraft

1 today was built in 1980. Well, I'm not going to do the 2 math in public, but that was a long time ago.

3 The new engines, these are the original
4 engines on the aircraft. General Wilson, who's the Vice 5 Chief of Staff of the Air Force, former commander of the 6 8th Air Force and Air Force Strike Command, has 7 requested briefing from the staff tomorrow to find out 8 where they are with the project. So that, again, that's 9 very important.

10 MILCON projects, the two on the list, 11 new communications squadron complex, that's going to 12 take eight buildings on the base and combine them into 13 one facility. The current place where the servers are 14 stored -- I don't make this up; I just report them -- is 15 a 1952s dining hall, eight-foot ceilings, and the 16 servers are scattered around like you wouldn't believe, 17 so desperate that we have that new facility.

18 We're preparing for future missions.
19 We've got to protect our flying environment at 20 Barksdale. We have a great history with the Joint 21 Bandwidth Survey. I think the first one goes back to 22 1995. The most recent one was completed in '09, and 23 it's being upgraded as we speak. It's extremely 24 important that we identify as a community the 25 encroachment areas around Barksdale and deal with that.

1 Barksdale has a great partnership with the Bossier 2 Metropolitan Planning Commission, and Sam Marsiglia and 3 his staff are great about helping builders and 4 developers understand the importance of maintaining 5 clear air space for Barksdale.

6 And it's important to look at it from 7 not just a B52 perspective. Yes, they're old; yes, 8 they're loud; yes, they're smoky. All of these things,
9 but new aircraft coming up in the future, the B21
10 Raider, potential F35 Mission, with reserves, to work 11 with Fort Polk. Those airplanes are loud. They're very 12 loud, and so we need to understand and help the 13 community understand that these new aircraft are the 14 future of Barksdale Air Force Base. So we feel like 15 we're prepared for the future. We're working towards 16 the future, and we're not just stagnantly accepting what 17 we've got, but it's important to understand the 18 challenges.

19 Less than half the Air Force forces are 20 combat-coded. They are ready -- the combat-coded forces 21 are ready for high-end threat. I read an article this 22 morning driving in from New Orleans -- well, my wife was 23 driving. I was not -- about the F15Cs. Those 24 aircraft -- I believe we have some at Belle Chasse.
25 Those aircraft were built in the 70s -- the 80s, on 70s

1 technology. Their Air Force is going to have to decide 2 if they're going to upgrade those aircraft or if they're 3 going to replace them.

4 Our technology gap that we have right
5 now that we enjoy over our peers and your peers, 6 potentially enemies, is narrow. It's extremely 7 important that that technology gap stay where it is or 8 grow because, otherwise, we're going to be bypassed and 9 the tradition of air superiority that we've enjoyed 10 every since Vietnam, really, could go away. We could 11 have real problems and the future.

12 Our Air Force is the smallest, oldest 13 and least ready than it's ever been, and a lot of that 14 goes back to a lot of programs that need to be worked 15 on. Upgrade nuclear arsenal; new bomber, F35; long-range, 16 stand-off missile, all of these things cost a lot of 17 money. A lot of money. And it's going to be real 18 sporty coming in the early 20s to see how all of these 19 programs are going to be balanced.

20 As a result of the Force Drawdown,
21 Secretary of Defense has asked the Air Force to come up 22 with five 4-Stars to retire, to drop down to a 3-Star 23 position. A couple of them have already happened.

24 You know, BRAC, again, is a big concern 25 of ours, and the Air Force has the resources to do what

6 I'm going to move on in appreciation of 8 we're at with Fort Polk and Fort Polk Progress.

9 As most of you know, we survived a 10 couple of significant rounds of Army corps structure 11 reductions, and we did that through really just the 12 sheer support of our community, our congressional 13 delegation, making sure that the military made sound 14 decisions based on accurate information and really our 15 statewide community coming out by the tens of thousands 16 to support that installation and really change the way 17 the Army viewed Fort Polk as an installation going 18 forward. However, during that period of time, the Army 19 did make some major reductions from a high of nearly 20 570,000 to a low of around 450,000, potentially going 21 down to 420,000 and possibly lower. This leaves Fort 22 Polk as the only installation in the Army inventory with 23 a single orphan brigade combat team, which makes up the 24 bulk of our soldiers that are stationed in Fort Polk, 25 that makes up the bulk of our economic impact to our

1 state and it gives the community the economic impact 2 that's necessary to provide the type of service that our 3 military families should expect.

4 So for the first time in five years,
5 we're actually in a position to grow and go on the 6 offense, and that's something I've been very, very 7 excited about because it seems like we've just been 8 fighting one battle after another for the past five or 9 six years just trying to avoid being cut and giving no 10 attention whatsoever to leveraging our resources, to 11 growing.

12 So there's two training advice brigades 13 that the Chief of Staff of the Army wants to grow. We 14 know Fort Polk is one of the installations being 15 considered because it would represent the only growth
16 that's happened recently with the Army. There's a lot 17 of competition for this mission, but because of all of 18 the things that make the Joint Readiness Training Center
19 great, all of those things kind of build, set the mold 20 for what the Chief of Staff would like to see the 21 training advised.

22 We obviously have a lot of excess
23 capacity at Fort Polk as we have lost some other corps 24 structure over the last two or three years, and as 25 Murray mentioned as well, we're very mindful of the 1 potential for a base realignment closure round, which we 2 continue to view as a big opportunity for Fort Polk.

3 So the metrics for our past success, so
4 obviously it's or local community strength, you know, 5 and I see Debbie here for the Alexandria community and 6 Ben Russo from CLECO and Colonel Willie Banks, who was 7 working as city administrator at the time, we just 8 pooled all of these people together and really made it 9 impossible for the Army to make those kind of reductions 10 during that period of time based on that support. We've 11 been well positioned with our congressional delegation, 12 as Murray mentioned. Here we are at a period of time 13 where we have a great opportunity on the horizon for our 14 military installations like Fort Polk and Barksdale, and 15 Fort Polk especially with our additional training space, 16 but we have many new members of Congress, and these new 17 members of Congress will have new staff and some of 18 these decisions will get made in a potentially 19 plussed--up financial situation very quickly. And so 20 it's really incumbent upon us to work with those new 21 members and staff committees that they chose to serve on 22 and the staff they chose to hire so we can quickly hit 23 the ground running.

24 You know, again, the smart groundwork,
25 the land purchase program is really giving us more

1 leverage. You know, we're working with those Fort Polk
2 leaders that are coming to Louisiana; they're feeling 3 that experience and the support they get from Louisiana.
4 We're engaging them heavily in their command at Fort 5 Polk, and now you have people that are -- the Deputy 6 Commander at 25th in Hawaii; you have the SOUTHCOM 7 commander; you have the European -- Deputy Commander of 8 European Forces Command have all recently left Fort Polk 9 and are great advocates for this installation, and so 10 we're leveraging that even as they leave.

11 And then, finally, in talking about the 12 Land Purchase Program, there is some talk that that 13 could expand.

14 This Education Initiative, again, one of 15 things we use some of the state resources for is to help 16 leverage grants, and we've been very successful for in 17 the last year. This Education Initiative is growing by 18 leaps and bounds to success in our schools for our 19 military-connected students. The school report cards, I 20 believe, came out today for the state, and I know that 21 we grew in almost every school that had 22 military-connected students. We had major improvement.
23 So this is something that the Army has huge buy in to.
24 Our military families are very appreciative of it and 25 will change that longstanding perception of, "Hey, I've

1 been assigned to Fort Polk. What does this mean for my 2 family in terms of education?" and any negative 3 perception they may have. So that's very, very 4 important.

5 Some of the reasons that we can't rest
6 presently, very similar to what Murray described. You 7 know, the budget sequester process is not dead yet.
8 Hopefully it will be and start budgeting based on 9 military strategy, which will dictate a higher number of 10 active-duty soldiers and where those missions will go we 11 want to make sure that we're working on. You know, the 12 new missions will be very competitive.

13 We continue in our military value
14 scoring. Out of all of the installations in the 15 country, we continue to be around the middle of the 16 pact, the middle third of the pact. Some of that 17 continues to be because they're not scoring Fort Polk 18 based on new and freshest data because of our 19 recently-expanded 47,000 acres of training space. So we 20 ought to continue to advocate for that.

21 We fight very hard to continue to keep 22 our hospital open as Army MEDCOM has challenging 23 budgets. We are continuing to work on MILCON for a new 24 Joint Operations Command Center in North Fort Polk that 25 we believe will be in the 2019 to 2020 range.

1 BRAC continues to be on the horizon
2 because of the excess capacity within the Army. Again, 3 we believe because of our mission, because of our cost 4 of operations, we have huge opportunity for gain there.
5 And, again, our economic impact is significant for our 6 state and certainly for our region.

7 Again, really paying attention to what 8 the future Army looks like. This is one of the things 9 that through some of the state resources and utilizing 10 people like Chris, we can really start with not just 11 focusing on what's going on today, but really looking 12 what is the Army 2025 strategy, what does an 13 installation look like, what are the missions, how are 14 the corps structure going to be constructed, so we make 15 sure that we're in alignment with those needs. And so 16 we'll continue to watch and be prepared for BRAC. I 17 think, y'all, it's not something I'm nervous about 18 anymore. Because of our professional advocacy through 19 the Roosevelt Group, because of the work we're doing in 20 the community, I think we'll be well ahead and prepared 21 to engage at that level.

22 And then, finally, just our next steps, 23 you know, our FY18 Congressional Outreach Plan, there's 24 a lot of things going on. Your new members of Congress
25 and the senator could be the chair of the Appropriations

1 Subcommittee on Military Constructions and Veterans

3 major leverage with the State of Louisiana in our 4 delegation. We have new members that will be asking to 5 serve on the House Armed Services Committee and the 6 Senate Armed Services Committee. So there's a lot of 7 work we've got to do very quickly. For us, the Training 8 Advise Brigade at Joint Operations Command, we have one 9 of the oldest chapels in the Army. It's a quality of 10 life issue. We're continuing to advocate for that. And 11 then our UAS runways, just difficulties as the airspace, 12 protected airspace that's required, and our runway is 13 too short at Fort Polk.

14 The public-public partnerships I 15 mentioned when the Governor was here, so I won't go into 16 that in greater detail, but we are going to have some 17 huge wins from that in the very near future, and it's 18 going to make Fort Polk look even more attractive to the 20 We'll be more integrated with the state, more integrated

1 members, our assets, for me, it's kind of like herding 2 cats in comparison to Mike and Murray. We have several 3 large installations, including the headquarters for the 4 Marine Forces Reserve, the U.S. Coast Guard 10th 5 District, which is huge. They serve the Gulf South and 6 into, you know, the middle part of the country. Of 7 course, the Naval Air Station, Joint Reserve Base in 8 Belle Chasse and the National Guard Jackson Barics. It 9 represents about six or seven percent of our regional 10 economy, so it's huge and very impactful to us. And, 11 you know, I'm just delighted to be sitting with you here 12 today.

13 Thanks to the partnership with LED,
14 we're new guys on the block. We're about two years into 15 this for us. We have three legs of the stool that we're 16 looking at, very similar to my counterparts in this 17 state, awareness, outreach and advocacy.

18 The awareness part of it, you know, our 19 citizens really admire the military, but in our large 20 metro area, sadly, they don't appreciate or truly are 21 they aware of the true presence, so that's one of the 22 things we're working on. We've built a website; we 23 produce materials and we're looking for opportunities to 24 be ambassadors and work through other business 25 organizations to get the word out about the 1 installation.

2 I wanted to just, since the last
3 meeting, two particular examples I just wanted to share 4 in terms of outreach that we've been involved with. The 5 first is IT Everywhere, a program that we're running in 6 support of the Statewide Jump Start Initiative.
7 Primarily it's focused on offering high school youth
8 access to industry-validated credentials. And here you
9 see Commander Delarge. He's head of the SPAWAR
10 programs, which is the military warfare information 11 systems for the world, actually. He provided a 12 presentation to 18 educators from around five parishes 13 on the types of skills he's looking for in order to hire
14 people. I think he has over 800 folks at the UNO campus 15 there.

16 Another recent example I wanted to 17 briefly share was Operation Spark. Again, it's how do 18 we demonstrate the fastest routes to careers in software 19 development in the state, and we're looking for 20 opportunities to reach out to veterans in order to 21 encourage their career development in information
22 technology. To that end, actually Template, a veteran 23 from Pierre Part, Louisiana, joined the Air Force at 19.
24 She's been hired recently, specifically on the Operation
25 Spark Team, to help recruit veterans to get more engaged

1 and to participate and take advantage of career
2 development opportunities.

3 I'm going to talk the most about 4 advocacy. We have a couple two things that I
5 particularly want to focus on this morning. Obviously 6 we're trying to protect and grow our regional military 7 installations, and it's very critical to us. The first 8 issue is the FA18 Hornets out of Belle Chasse. We have 9 one of the two remaining reserve wings out of Belle 10 Chasse with 24 around the country, 24 aircraft. Those 11 are aging airplanes, and we've not been successful in 12 getting the attention to provide the necessary 13 maintenance and support to extend the life of those 14 aircraft, so they're at risk. They represent hundreds 15 of jobs in the Metro New Orleans area, so it's of a 16 large concern to us.

17 For the past two years, we've been 18 working very hard to make sure money was an 19 appropriations to provide the funding to extend the life 20 of that aircraft. It's an important interim solution as 21 we're waiting for the F35 to come to the play.

22 One thing that -- and opportunity 23 that -- the first issue I'd like to emphasize in that 24 regard is that we've become aware that there are Kuwaiti 25 aircraft that are available that would be a wonderful

1 solution. They have a minimum number of hours and 2 they've been maintained by US contractors. So we're 3 talking to our delegation and we're trying to generate 4 support as, again, a great interim solution to extend 5 that operation and to, you know, put our best foot 6 forward in that regard.

7 We're working specifically with 8 Congressman Graves and Congressman Palazzo from 9 Mississippi to try to put the full-court press on Vice 10 Admiral Braun to try to make that happen.

11 So the other issue I wanted to mention 12 was around the Air National Guard also operating out of 13 the Belle Chasse facility. I talked to Colonel Mike 14 McDermott, who's the Vice Commander there, late in the 15 week last week. They completed what is referred to as 16 the Air Force basing criteria for the F35, and in all 17 metrics, we are at the top of the heap to receive an Air 18 National Guard squadron. They're going to be awarding a 19 lump over the next couple of years. Site visits are to 20 take place between now and December. They're going to 21 visit six to nine sites. And the folks in the Air Guard 22 were, shall we say, very confident that we were going to 23 have visits and we were really at the top of the heap to 24 potentially get one of those units. In the meantime, 25 we've come to find out that Hill Air Force Base and, of

1 all places, Burlington, Vermont, had been awarded the 2 first two site visits. And what's that word of the 3 year? Boast truth? It's like we're in a circumstance 4 where objectively, you know, we should be at the top of 5 the list for a visit in one of the squadrons, but it's 6 very clear that politics has come into play. So we're 7 very quickly -- as a matter of fact, Colonel McDermott 8 is in Washington as we speak now briefing the Louisiana
9 Delegation on, you know, why we're qualified. And, you 10 know, again, under all of the different metrics of 11 maintenance, preparedness, safety, you name it, we 12 should have it. So he's going to be talking especially 13 to Steve Scalise and the rest of the delegation to line
14 up support for the F35.

15 Kind of concurrently, the thought was 16 that the existing care aircraft that they're flying, the 17 F15C, would be extended into the mid-2022 to 2026. We 18 received all kind of recognitions and awards for that 19 program. Unfortunately, there's been a change in 20 command over that part of the Air Force, and the money 21 that was required to, I think the term is, schlep, to 22 extend the life of that hardware, the F15s on our base 23 is now -- the 2-billion is now not going to be included 24 in the budget. This we just found out within the last 25 couple weeks, so it's a bit of a perfect storm for us

1 that we had this confidence that we would be at the top 2 of the heap for the F35, and to find that out that the 3 F15 is now at risk when we thought it was like gold till 4 2026, so...

5 Concurrently, while Colonel McDermott is 6 in Washington, he's helping to also create awareness 7 with our delegation of the importance of extending the 8 life of the F15 as an important solution while the F35s 9 are in the run.

10 So those are kind of the things that are 11 keeping us up at night and things we're very focused on 12 for SEMA.

13 In terms of additional opportunities,
14 obviously, my colleague, Bruce Keller, will talk a 15 little bit about Belle Chasse, so I'll defer to him, but 16 any MILCON defense budget dollars that are there to 17 support infrastructure at that base or any of our other 18 units, we're going to be pursuing, obviously.

19 And then another opportunity is to 20 commercialize the runway at Belle Chasse. We're looking 21 at, I believe, the east and to potentially develop an 22 industrial park and commercialize the runway in 23 partnership with the Navy so that we can bring business 24 development to Plaquemines Parish. So we've done the 25 necessary beginning steps, and I've gotten initial

1                   Good morning, everybody. I'm Bruce
2 Keller. I work at the Naval Air Station Joint Reserve
3 Base. I work for the COO of the base.

4                   Murray, you were talking earlier about 5 encroachment being one of your concerns there.

6 Actually, the Navy, and as I understand it now, the Air
7 Force is also hiring people in the environmental program 8 to -- specialists to actually deal with, for the 9 commanding offices, to deal with encroachment issues.
10 My background is a professional land use planner, and I
11 work for the COO as a technical advisor for encroachment 12 purposes, so noise concerns, getting out into the 13 community working with economic development folks, 14 working with the zoning folks in getting that word out 15 as to what the impacts are and how to mitigate them is 16 part of the function that I perform there.

17                   I also sit in on our Calendar Commitment

23 what Gary was talking about in terms of the shared or 24 potential shared use of the runway at the base.

1 going on with the mission at the Naval Air Station, it 2 is one of two naval reserve bases in the country, Naval 3 Air Reserve bases. The other one is in Fort Worth. We 4 are looking to, under the auspices of encroachment
5 primarily, but also, you know, as a safeguard to keeping 6 mission going at the installation, looking at the 7 potential for sharing the runway. That may not be a 8 doable thing elsewhere, but here, the usage of the 9 runway, runways, the two runways that we have, is not 10 maximum. It's fairly close to minimum. So sharing the 11 runway may make some sense in terms of supporting, 12 financially supporting, the mission that is happening
13 there. So we -- the Navy has been, the base commanding 14 officer has been approached by the Plaquemines Port 15 around the Mississippi River, of course, and so the Port 16 of Plaquemines has been a fledgeling unit for decades at 17 this point, and it looks like it's picking up some speed 18 now, picking up some steam. I guess it's going to have 19 an L&G plan on its grounds within the next few years.
20 So there's some seed money there from that project to 21 move the Port concept forward. I know LED is involved 22 in that to a certain extent in terms of understanding 23 what's happening there.

24 So the base has been approached by the 25 Port as part of a Port Master Planning Process to have

1 air cargo be included with them, and that would open up
2 the potential to requests from the Navy on a limited 3 basis the usage of the runways. So what is happening at 4 this point in time is that the Regional Planning
5 Commission has -- is working as we speak on a 6 feasibility study to see what the market potential is 7 for that kind of endeavor, and we're expected before the 8 next meeting of this group that the base will have 9 gotten a proposal in from the port to actually share the 10 runways. We'll find out some more specifics about it.
11 And it's essentially a two-step process with that, a 12 very long process, several years. One that I know about 13 happening in Santa Rosa County Florida, that was the 14 first one for the Southeast region of the Navy, that 15 took 10 years to accomplish. We should beat that if we 16 go forward with it. But the two-step process is the 17 Commanding Officer of the base will receive the 18 proposal, will look at it from a cursory perspective.
19 There's a Secretary of the Navy instruction that allows 20 for it to happen to begin with, and there's some bullet 21 points of what is important to even allowing that to 22 happen. So if it passes the straight face test at the 23 Commanding Officer level, it will go up to his boss, a 24 1-Star General -- a 1-Star Admiral -- excuse me -- and 25 it will go all of the way up to Secretary of the Navy

1 Department to be vetted. And then if it receives 2 approval at the concept level, then it comes back down
3 to implementation, and there's a naval engineering 4 command that puts together real estate proposals and 5 real estate contracts, and they would do that work. So 6 it's got a while before it gets to that stage, but 7 making people aware of it is important because receiving 8 state support for it and acknowledgement that it's, you 9 know, in the state planning in some format, that it's on 10 the radar screen is very important. So it wouldn't 11 surprise me if Stan Mathes and company sends you some 12 more information in asking for your support for that.

13 So the current Commanding Officer of the 14 base could be around for another year, year and a half, 15 I think. He's very much in support of exploring the 16 idea. First time that that's happened. I think 20 17 years ago, it was an idea that was explored and it was 18 not so well received on the military side, but I think 19 now there's much more willingness to look at it as a 20 potential idea to show up what we do there as well as to 21 find some financial support from using the one runway.

22 So that's the tact work we're on at this 23 point in time. Hopefully Gary and company will be able 24 to find some support. We get a lot from SEMA in terms 25 of that. Calendar Commitment is a very small group and

19 Quick update, just let me give you a 20 quick update on the Roosevelt Group, who we are, some 21 new members to our team, somewhat of a perspective on 22 the remaining actions and the 114th Congress, what we're 23 seeing with the new administration, quick perspective on

1                   We've expanded our team really to 2 reflect the requirements that our clients have put on 3 us. As you can see, you know, we're very heavy Air 4 Force and Army, which is partly a reflection of the 5 folks we work with. We're now working with Harry 6 Disbrow, Dis, former fighter pilot, lot of experience in 7 A3 and A5. His wife happens to be the Undersecretary of 8 the Air Force, but Dis brings a lot of requirements
9 background, big programmatic decisions, served, you
10 know, very closely with the JROC, the Joint Requirements 11 Council, just an institutional smart guy.

12                   Mike Aimone, you know, you hear a lot 13 now about energy surety and resilience on installations, 14 that's not going to go away, and we had a weakness there 15 and we knew we had to get smarter on it, so Mike is 16 working with us now. Mike started the Air Force Energy
17 Office and also worked for OSD in the Operational Energy 18 Office. You know, when it comes ESCOs and ESPCs, you 19 know, and any kind of big contract in renewable energy 20 and energy surety, he is -- he's the man. Electrical 21 engineer as well. He's studying now to get his HAM
22 radio certification, so it's harder to get ahold of him 23 until he passes that test.

1 for Booz Allen, but he's giving us a few hours from a
2 National Guard perspective. He's really a bright guy.

3 We've had Bud Wyatt on the team since we 4 started the company, but Bud is a judge in Oklahoma, but 5 between Sid and Bud, we have the Guard covered.

6 Scott Taylor was one of the original
7 guys working the Air Force Strategic Basing Process.
8 Scott started the whole F35 process in terms of basing.

9 So the top, you know, our full-time,
10 myself, John Simmons, Kathleen Ferguson, who's a former 11 Principal Deputy Assistant Secretary of the Air Force 12 Installations. Kevin Felix is our Army guy. And the 13 rest are really -- they're 1099. You know, we use them 14 when we need them, and it works out. It works out 15 great.

16 I'm not going to bore you with this, but 17 just a quick overview. This is the final map, and as 18 you can see, Michigan still has not been counted, 16 19 votes. Trump won Michigan by 13,000 votes, but the 20 counties have until November 22nd to count them. So 21 that's the final tally. 50 and 51 races called. 51st 22 races, Washington, DC, three electoral votes.

23 So now you're in a transition, 4,000
24 jobs, a quarter of them have to be senate confirmed.
25 So, you know, that's the big ones, the cabinet

1 positions, the folks when you go to the Pentagon, you 2 talk to deputy assistants and assistant secretaries, 3 they're not go going to just show up. They have to be 4 confirmed. And the rest are, you know, staff.

5 So back to Congress, you know you're in 6 a lame duck session; right? So what we're looking at is 7 funding, you know, appropriations. You were on a 8 continuing resolution through the 9th of December. That 9 continuing resolution rode on the FY17 MILCON VA Bill.
10 That was the only one of 12 appropriations bills that 11 was actually passed and sent to the White House and 12 signed into law, and that's what got you through this 13 congressional continuing resolution, of which Louisiana 14 does have MILCON projects. Murray mentioned one of 15 those.

16 So now we sent through an Army bus, you 17 know, a big package of appropriations bills. There's 18 going to kind of be little mini buses or is it going to 19 be a full or partial year CR. It's going to be the last 20 as of today as of this morning. Hal Rogers basically 21 said this morning, "We're done doing appropriations.
22 We're just going to punt it into a FY -- into Calendar 23 Year 17." You know, I'm a Republican from 24 Massachusetts, just fair disclosure. First bad move by 25 Republicans. They're very good at shooting themselves

1 in the foot. Just from a personal perspective, they 2 should have just, you know, worked with Harry Reid, got 3 this all cleared up and moved on, but, you know, they're 4 greedy.

5 Okay. So there are no appropriations
6 for the end of year. We're going to go into a CR and 7 we're going to try to sort it out while we're trying to 8 sort out all of these new initiatives that the Trump 9 Administration wants to take on.

10 So how does that affect the 11 Authorization Act? It probably won't. I think you'll 12 still get an Authorization Act. The Authorization Bill, 13 that's the policy, the pay raises, the Guantanamo Bay 14 issues, the Sage grouse. Any policy issue gets put into 15 that Authorization Act. The only thing that was really 16 slowing that up was how much of the OCO money the 17 Republicans were going to take to put towards things 18 like readiness. The Republicans wanted to take 19 18-billion. The Democrats didn't want to take any, and 20 they kind of cut that in half and agreed that 9-billion 21 will come out of the overseas contingency account and 22 pay for things like Army troop strength, which is 23 important. So some of the cuts from last year are going 24 to get rolled back. I don't think all of them, but like 25 the Alaskan Airborne Brigade will now be funded.

1                   So back to the Continuing Resolution,
2 these are locked in. Barksdale absolutely gets a 3 $21-million facility in its Joint Reserve until 4 Senator -- I'm assuming that's not at Belle Chasse --
5 for 11-million. So that's good. Those are good 6 projects.

7                   So then the base, you know, you've got 8 your leadership elections. The House GOP already had 9 their leadership elections. You know, Paul Ryan was 10 voted in unanimously. He still has -- there's still an 11 actual election for the Speaker on January 3rd. He'll 12 win. The current CR expires. Your state Senate House
13 races are December 10th, 115th convenes on January 3rd 14 and inauguration on the 20th.

15                   All right. So looking at Trump, this is 16 just what he's said. There's nothing magical that I 17 know here, but he -- the administration has said, "We 18 want a 20 percent increase in defense spending. We want 19 to increase the size of the Army, 475 back to 540."
20 That's great. Fighters, ships, aircraft, missile 21 defense.

22                   So who's going to be the Secretary of 23 Defense? You know, this is just a moving target. You 24 know, even Tom Cotton now has been looked at, Kelly 25 Ayotte, Mike Wynne. The more interesting, the Secretary

1 of the Navy, Air Force and Army hasn't really been 2 spoken a lot in the press, but, you know, we're hearing 3 Van Hipp, former Army Reserve Principal Assistant 4 Secretary for the Army. This former Congressman in 5 Oklahoma, I have no idea who he is. Randy Forbes is 6 somebody we work with very, very closely. We know his 7 staff real well. That looks to be pretty good entail
8 that he will take over Secretary of the Navy. He's a 9 great guy, smart guy.

10 Okay. So for us, you know, we know the 11 Secretaries for Civilians haven't been appointed. We 12 have a very clear idea who we need to really focus on.
13 A lot of these guys are new and woman are new, and these 14 are the types of people that are money to us. You know, 15 not just Goldstein. We know about that, but, you know, 16 Robin Rand, the Bill Benders, the Weinsteins, the 17 Maryanne Millers in the same town on the Army side.
18 Those are the people that make the decisions that affect 19 us directly.

20 So on BRAC, this is very interesting.
21 I'm almost done. You know, we have got into this battle 22 rhythm for the last eight years where Congresses just 23 asks for a BRAC, and -- I'm sorry -- the President and 24 the Secretary of Defense asks for BRAC and Congresses 25 says no, and that's just been what happens. So, you

1 know, don't worry about the rest of that slide. We all 2 know it's at the capacity and Congress hates it, blah, 3 blah, blah.

4 But in reality, now that Trump is in 5 there, Trump has a decision to make because if he's 6 going to put 55-billion more into the department, that 7 means more planes, that means more soldiers, so he's 8 basically, you know, saying, "Hey, that excess capacity, 9 I may very well need." So in the end, he also needs 10 money. So in FY18, that budget request is going to come
11 up in January and somebody's going to advise Trump -- 12 and this will get to his level -- "Mr. President, you 13 know, we really could use BRAC because it's excess 14 capacity. You're a real estate guy, you understand 15 this," but at the same time, somebody else ought to be 16 saying, "No. Wait, because we need that capacity, and 17 don't just start closing bases again. It's not very 18 popular." The only people that are going to do that, 19 frankly, are guys like him. You know, well, I mean, 20 he's a Democrat. I get that. But, really, we're going 21 to have to make that decision. I think from the 22 Louisiana perspective, do you want to weigh in with your 23 Republican members and get to Trump, write him a letter 24 and just say, "Hey, if you're really going to rely on 25 excess capacity, why are you going to support a BRAC

1 that is designed solely to kill excess capacity?" I
2 don't think it's an issue for Barksdale and Fort Polk, 3 but now is the time. The smart communities are going to 4 start to push Trump, you know, one way or another 5 because that decision has to be made fairly soon.

6 So say it gets through; right. So they 7 he says, "Screw it. I want a BRAC round." That's kind 8 of the timeline that you're going to look at. You know, 9 now you're really getting down to, you know, the 10 Pentagon requests it, the House on Services Center on 11 Services mark up their bills, the President signs the 12 bill like he always does late in the year. Then you go 13 into the next year, the data calls start happening, the 14 joint cross service groups stand up, and about midyear, 15 the commissioners get selected and confirmed and then,
16 BAM, September 19th, it's over. It's a quick process.

17 So back to Fort Polk, I think Mike has 18 touched on all of these issues very, very well. You 19 know, I think we're prepared. I think we're getting to 20 a point finally that hopefully we can get some real big 21 and new wins.

22 You know, Barksdale, that top quote is 23 really interesting. This came out of the Air Force 24 Association Air Force Magazine, "Current adventurism by 25 both Russia and China is evidence of the diminishing

1 currency of creditable American deterrence." I mean, 2 that is a really powerful statement. Murray and 3 Barksdale are in a great position, you know, to really 4 grow and to robust themselves. And there's some, I
5 mean, great stuff happening. Having a MAJCOM, a major 6 command at Barksdale, I mean, that is just -- that's -- 7 it is so different five years ago. I mean, having a 8 4-Star at command is, you know, communities begged for 9 that and you got it. So building a road in that base 10 should be a no-brainer, and thankfully he understands 11 that. I mean, I wanted to clap when he said we're 12 building a road. It's like hallelujah, you know.

13 Weapons storage area, you get that 14 $350-million weapons storage area, this base will never 15 close. It will never close. 50 years. I mean, it's 16 $350-million.

17 Energy surety, we're going to be coming

20 Miller, who runs all of the Air Force installations,

22 Robin Rand about this. Teran Judd, who runs all of the 23 partnership programs said, "We want the general

3 that's -- we've been knocking our heads against the wall 4 for five years since the A10s came out. You know, we 5 just keep going and maybe we'll get there.

6 And then syncing the MILCON, you've got 7 to get -- you put money into the road, the Air Force 8 promised they'll build a gate.

9 So closing thoughts, sequestration is 10 still an issue. That's got to go away. I do think it's 11 going to go away. Don't rule out BRAC with the Trump 12 Administration. Again, however, again, it's that 13 capacity versus a process that's designed to kill 14 capacity. And, you know, the rest of this stuff I think 15 we've all covered very well.

16 Lots of new leaders in the Air Force and 13 we do update our Economic Impact Study on a four-year

14 basis, and it is time. We'll be developing a path 15 forward on that. We'll share that with you and we want 16 you to you know that that's an ongoing activity in our 17 "Old Business" column.

18                  Under "New Business," know that we have 19 petitioned the Governor's executive budget to include 20 funds for the continued relationship that we have with 21 the three main primary contracts, those being SEMA, Fort 22 Polk and Barksdale, so we'll continue to ask for those 23 funds. I believe they are included at this time in the 24 Governor's executive budget. You heard him today. I 25 have a higher degree of confidence that we may not be

1 able to grow. I know we have additional needs, and it 2 would be great to grow the allocation that we have in 3 there, but I think we think can count on status quo and 4 we'll work towards the needs that we have that are 5 critical and those that are identified, but I anticipate 6 that $500,000 and we won't know for sure until the 7 legislature adjourns next June. But typically we have 8 strong legislative support for our activities, so we'll 9 keep our fingers crossed in that regard, and more so 10 than that, we'll work hard to make sure that that's in 11 there. And there may be times that we call upon you to 12 reach out to your legislators to help us if we sense 13 that there's any threat to that resource that we know, 14 although, it is very important.

15 Mike, I think you addressed 16 public-public partnerships. Certainly we're glad to 17 hear that that's actively being engaged at Barksdale as 18 well. And, Gary, at least we can share that best 19 practices in the Greater New Orleans area. We know that 20 you've got the leadership here both in Washington and in 21 our state to assist with that.

22 One of the areas the Governor commented
23 on and one that our Executive Director, Sherri 24 McConnell, will be working towards is the concept around 25 this reciprocity. There are other states that are doing

1 it. There may be some areas where we get some pushback.
2 There's a lot of professions that fall into this. Some 3 are easier than others, such as healthcare, say, nurses 4 that come, and educators, teachers that come, they have 5 national standards that they can meet, and those are 6 easier for us to get buy in, perhaps, in a reciprocity 7 scenario, but we'll be looking at those activities.

8 The Governor has directed us to seek out 9 ways that we can provide an easier pathway for military 10 spouses to gain employment in our communities, and I 11 don't have to go into for all of us why we think that's 12 a great idea.

13 I would like to pause for a moment and 14 call on Jim Hill if there's any update. One of the 15 things that we've been canvassing for a State of 16 Louisiana civilian aide to the Army. It's an unpaid 17 position, but one that helps a lot with communication 18 between our state and the Pentagon.

19 MR. HILL:

20 Yeah. I'll take just about two minutes.
21 I had a bunch of slides, but we're not going to show 22 those. I really didn't.

23 I'm the Civilian Aide to the Secretary 24 of the Army for the State of Louisiana. Every state has 25 one, at least one. Army is the only service that has

1 it, and it's tied to an active-duty Army installation, 2 JRTC Fort Polk. Texas has four; Alabama has two.
3 Secretary Fanning, when he took office as the Secretary
4 of the Army, decided that he had about 10 to 13 5 metropolitan areas that he wanted a representative in.
6 I'm the Secretary's representative for the state. I 7 kind of feed back to him; he feeds back to me. We get 8 together at least once or twice a year, and he has 9 identified the New Orleans Metropolitan area as the 10 location that he wants. We've submitted some names up, 11 several different groups have submitted some names up.
12 It's a slow, slow process to go through. With the 13 change in administration, I have not heard what affect 14 that might have because we'll have eventually a new 15 Secretary of the Army. So we'll monitor that, and maybe 16 next time have a little more advice to give to you, 17 Secretary Don. Thank you very much.

18 SECRETARY PIERSON:

19 Thanks for working that initiative for 20 us, Jim. We greatly appreciate it.

21 Before I open the floor, I'll just 22 indicate that there's a strong probability, as directed 23 by the Governor, that our next meeting will be off site, 24 probably in the vicinity of Barksdale Air Force Base in 25 Northwest Louisiana.

1                   One of the great pieces of information
2 that we have now is that around the April 27 timeframe, 3 and there's a document to this effect in your packet as 4 well, but one of our partnering organizations, the 5 Military Child Education Coalition, is going to conduct 6 what they call a convening in Northwest Louisiana. It's 7 not limited to Northwest Louisiana. In fact, we'll get 8 you some more information, but our goal would be to 9 bring some of the school superintendents around the Fort 10 Polk area, around the Greater New Orleans area, those 11 superintendents that have military children in their 12 census would be the appropriate target audience for us 13 to share a lot of information around academics, advocacy 14 and access to opportunity and how we integrate our 15 school systems in a way that supports our military 16 installations. It all goes back to making the airman or 17 the soldier happy, making his family happy as well, 18 making them want to continue their military service.
19 That whole framework of being content and feel like 20 you're contributing and your life's making a difference 21 is only made possible when your family feels good about 22 where they are, and that starts with the kids getting a 23 good education. And we've been able to make some really 24 great strides in that regard with a state-of-the-art 25 elementary school that's now at Fort Polk, but there's a

1 lot of other ways and programs available that we can 2 implement. So that's what this meeting will be about.
3 It will be at Barksdale and it will be around April 4 27th. We may find a way that we can integrate this 5 meeting in that timeframe, but I don't have a specific 6 timeframe for you to save the date yet, but we'll be 7 working to identify that with the Governor's schedule to 8 at least give him the opportunity to attend. His 9 schedule changes, so we may pin a date and then we may 10 not get to see him, but we'll certainly try to pin a 11 workable date for the Governor and our group to be 12 hosted, and we'll do that in coordination with the 13 Barksdale officials as well.

14 Finally, what you see on the screen here
15 is a small piece of what's in our Economic Quarterly.
16 That's a publication that LED puts out. It used to be 17 in print. It's strictly electronic now. That helps us 18 take down some of the costs. But one of features this 19 month is around our military infrastructure, and if you 20 get a chance to go to OpportunityLouisiana.com and 21 then -- that's our website, you can take a Google just 22 to Louisiana Economic Development and get there as well.
23 But under our publication of EQ, we have links. It also 24 gives some information about all of our military 25 installations, so a nice highlighting of the important

1 role that the military installations play in Louisiana

3 At this time, I will concluded my 4 remarks and open the floor to any member or public 5 comments.

6 MR. GATTI:

7 I have one comment. I just received an 8 unconfirmed report that nine marines have died and are 9 fighting right now as we speak. I think as we make 10 decisions to support family and spouses, I think we have 11 to realign ourself with the fact that it's going on 12 right now, and so I'd just like to ask the speaker, if 13 possible, take a moment of silence for these servicemen 14 and their families.

15 SECRETARY PIERSON:

16 Yes. Let's pause for a moment of 17 reflection.

18 (Whereupon a moment of silence was 19 observed.)

20 SECRETARY PIERSON:

21 All right. Thank you very much for 22 bringing that to our attention, Mr. Gatti.

23 If there are any other comments -- 24 please turn your badges in. We will retain those for 25 our next meeting. Thank you for your travels here
