From recovery to resilience, Louisiana is a powerful force.

LOUISIANA COMMUNITY NETWORK

Much of economic development is done at the regional and local level, but there are plenty of federal resources available to assist in the process. That is why it is important to forge alliances and collaborate with other agencies. To assist you in that effort, Louisiana Economic Development has compiled a list of partners, allies and economic development organizations that share your commitment to helping revitalize and build up communities and businesses throughout Louisiana.
